Glad to hear it, Mark! Looks like Theresa will give us an update next Tuesday.
Have a good weekend,
Detlef

Hi Mark,

I am more than happy to share. I will respond to him. I did not quite understand what he needed :D

How are things going in your lab? Is everyone back

Hi Detlef,

I hope you are well. I am having ongoing discussion with Charlie on this topic and sharing what I can. You likely have info and data I do not have with your work with Zack and others. If you are able please do share with Charlie. He and his EPA colleagues are in an information gathering mode on all things PFAS around or near the Chemours/DuPont Fayetteville area. If you have any hesitation in sharing please do hit me back.

Mark

Dr. Knappe,

My name is Charlie Collins II and I am an Environmental Scientist in the Water Enforcement Division of the Environmental Protection Agency. Currently, we are working with Mark Strynar and he shared some data information of samples collected along the Cape Fear River. He mentioned the work you and your research group has conducted and am inquiring about obtaining the information/data collected along the Cape Fear River. Any problems or concerns, please feel free to contact me either email and/or telephone to discuss further.

Thank You for your time and look forward to hearing back from you.

Regards,

-Charlie
